THE INAUGURATION.

More than usually impressive were the scenes attending the inauguration of the President at the national capital yesterday. Preparations for the great event had been made on a very elaborate scale, and the programme was carried out with entire success. The parade of civic and military organizations was unusually large. Every branch of the public service was represented. The representation from the army and the navy was especially numerous and imposing. The Governors of fourteen States, most of them accompanied by their staffs, formed a striking feature of the escort. Never did the capital city present a more brilliant appearance than on this auspicious occasion. Never did an incoming President receive a more generous tribute of love, respect and admiration than President McKinley received yesterday.

These ceremonies attending the inauguration of our American Presidents are not mere idle pomp or empty display. They typify the respect and the reverence which the American people feel for the highest ideals of civil liberty and of free government. These ideals are embodied and represented in the Chief Magistrate chosen by the people to execute their sovereign will. In honoring the man thus honored, the people express at once their loyalty to the splendid ideals which underlie our system of government, and their high regard for the man who, while holding this exalted trust, is the symbol and the embodiment of their sovereignty. It is right that the ceremonies attending the inauguration of our Presidents should be conducted on an impressive scale; for in these exercises—splendid in their simplicity—the national spirit finds expression, and the consecration of the people to the principles and the achievements of free popular government is recorded.

The President enters upon his second term of office under most auspicious circumstances. Never within its history has this nation been so prosperous as it is today. Never has labor been so generally and so generously employed. Never has agriculture yielded better returns. Never have mines and mills and factories been busier. Never has commerce so thrived as it is thriving today. Our nation, from center to circumference, is a busy hive of industry. The future is bright with promise. And we have been brought to these favorable conditions, within the brief period four years, out of a veritableough of despond, in which industry was prostrate, enterprise paralyzed, labor unemployed, and hope well-nigh crushed out of the hearts of men. Truly, looking back over the four years of his first administration, which closed at noon yesterday, the President has ample cause to have the people at large for thankfulness.

THE INAUGURAL.

As an example of conciseness and force, the President's inaugural address is a model. It is aggressive, uncompromising, clear, logical, and correct in its statement of facts. It is irresistible in its conclusions.

The President briefly but pointedly refers to the unhappy conditions which prevailed upon his accession to the Presidency on March 4, 1897, and draws a striking contrast between those conditions and the favorable conditions which exist at the present time. "The national verdict of 1896 has for the most part been executed," says the President, and "whatever remains unfulfilled is a continuing obligation, resting with undiminished force upon the Executive and the Congress. But, fortunate as our condition is, its permanence can only be assured by sound business methods and strict economy in national administration and legislation. We should not permit our great prosperity to lead us to reckless ventures in business or profligacy in public expenditures."

Brief reference is made to the war with Spain, and to the results of that war, which were "signally favorable for American arms, and in the highest degree honorable to the government." The war imposed upon us "obligations from which we cannot escape, and from which it would be dishonorable to seek to escape."

Referring to "the national purpose," the President declares that it is indicated through national elections, which are the constitutional method of ascertaining the public will. When once the public will is registered, "it is law to us all, and faithful observance should follow its decrees. The President bespeaks the loyal support of all sections of the country in executing the public will, as recorded in the late national election. "We are reunited," he says. "Sectionalism has dis-

THE "WRITE-UP" MAN.

The "write-up" fiend, who gathers together paid matter for publications of which many people never before heard in their lives, is again in our midst—or has lately been here. There lies before us a copy—the first one we ever saw—of "America's Journal of Industry," a 32-page 4-column publication, with a cover. There is nothing in the body of the publication to show where it is printed, but from an advertisement we learn that it was established in 1897 by a printing company in Brooklyn, N. Y., and that beginning with January, 1901, there will be published a quarterly supplement of which this is apparently one; each number portraying the resources and possibilities of some American city that will indicate the progress of the nation in all the attributes of greatness." Then follows a couple of pages.

It is hard for one living in Southern California these days to be other than an optimist.

A Most Holy Show.

Although doing a minor part, Mary

Van Cleave, of "The Van Cleave," is of no small importance in the place.

If her fainting fit after receiving rough treatment at the hands of the villain

Moxie in the first act isn't exactly as that, the fault is doubtless due to the lack of an accurate model of such an incident rather than to any deficiency in the efforts of the actress. In the later acts which follow, the Van Cleave, with elegant, flowing, and elegant, surrounding audiences generally find her.

The play is a farce, and the show is the best aggregation of burn-cork artists that has exhibited in Los Angeles this season. Everything went with a go and a dash, but a few ancient jokers, but this will have to be the best.

The vocal corps rendered some delightful solos, the best being by Rees Prosser,

"For Love Alone," and "When the Harvest Days Are Over," the latter being given with a medley chorus and several solos.

Mr. Paul is all right.

The show is a fair imitation of Mrs.

Fadden, the honest and well-meaning mother of "Chimney." H. S. Duffield, who appears briefly in the detective series, is a good actor.

Declares Smashing Tactics are Justified Where Saloonists are Law Breakers—Predicts Spread of Uprising to All Parts of the Land.

BY THE NEW YORK ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A. M. J. MYERS, of New York, who has been a leader in the cause of Mrs. Nation, the woman who should be considered in relation to law was discussed by the Rev. Dr. Cortland Myers in the Baptist Temple, Brooklyn, last night. He said, in part:

"Mrs. Nation lives in Kansas, and the law of Kansas are not the laws of New York. There the people entered into a holy compact.

They have agreed that no intoxicating liquor shall be sold as a beverage within the borders of their State. The saloon-keepers do not think that righteous law and order is being upheld in hardened sole for soul of mockery."

New York inhabitants have made another kind of agreement, and saloons and their resultant vice and crime and death have been made legal.

In Kansas, Mrs. Nation may be leading a crusade for God and humanity.

Kenilworth Wins Inauguration

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.J.
LOUISVILLE (Ky.) March 4.—Tommy Ryan or Syracuse, tonight won the first race decided over Tommy West of Brooklyn, after seventeen rounds of a twenty-round contest. West's seconds threw up the sponge.

THE FIGHT took place at the Auditorium, under the auspices of the Southern Athlete Club, and was before the most prominent people seen in Louisville. They entered the ring at catch weights and each weighed in the neighborhood of 157 pounds.

After the tenth round West was assisted by Terry McGovern. In the first round honors were about even, the two both were right in the business, both landed often and hard. West getting in several hard jolts on Ryan's neck.

In the second Ryan was knocked down twice and seemed about to give up when the gong sounded. At the first round West took almost the full count. The third and fourth rounds were West's, and the fifth Ryan's.

In the sixth West landed on Ryan's nose, and there was more blood. Ryan was the aggressor in this round, but West blocked and landed with such force that the gong might have finished him.

In the seventh Ryan's lip was split and West's nose was broken, his right eye closed, his forehead laid open in two places and his cheek split. Blood poured from his wounds as time after time. Ryan landed a blow on the nose of his opponent in the eighth round.

He played continuously for the broken nose, and for the next half dozen rounds made a veritable chipping of West's nose. The fight was a most wonderful blood pouring from nearly a dozen of his wounds. West's corner looked like a slaughtered animal, and the fighters attacked him still more furiously. West fled from the door with a mop. So bloody, indeed, was the fight that several persons near the ring were nauseated and had to leave the hall.

Still during round after round West came up only for poundings on the nose, eye and cheek. In the seventh round West won. It was seen that West was fighting a hopeless fight. Terry McGovern threw up the sponge for West and the referee gave the decision to Ryan.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Arrested for Fighting.

Charles Dalton, a newsboy, and Abe Gordon, a young tailor's apprentice, had a lively fight at Second and street, Broadway, at about 12 o'clock. They were arrested for disturbing the peace and later were released on their own recognizance.

Burglar Bailed.

Last Sunday night about 11:30 o'clock a burglar tried to effect an entrance into the house of William K. No. 610 Crenshaw street. Mr. Kelley, who was in the house, heard the noise and promptly shot at the would-be thief, who then ran like a deer east to Towns avenue and turned south on that thoroughfare.

Resolutions Adopted.

In the United States Circuit and District Courts, the same resolutions on the death of Senator Stephen M. White were introduced by Hon. R. N. Bullis and Judge Tracy. They were adopted and ordered read into the House on the 2nd. June. Wellborn. They were the same resolutions heretofore published as adopted by the Superior Court.

Petty Crimes.

Ball Bros., who have a feed yard on the corner of Alpine and Figueroa streets, reported that the same scoundrels broke the locks on their yard gate early yesterday morning, entered the place and cut open a number of sacks of grain, strewn it around on the causeway sailing along. "Not me," he said. "I'm a soldier. I'm home from the Philippines."

And he got off. Lots of others got off before the required number got on. The ratio was about 50 to 1.

Little Blazes.

A man started by a solar printer was the cause of a small fire at Marquette galleries yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. The department was called out, but the fire was extinguished by the employees of the place, the damage being slight. Last night about 7:30 o'clock a child started a coal-oil lamp in the one-story cottage of William Koopmann at No. 1406 South Union avenue. The lamp exploded and the resulting fire destroyed about $75 worth of property.

Protestant Ministers.

A meeting of the Presbyterian Ministers' Association was held yesterday morning at the Y.M.C.A. parlor, and Rev. A. M. Mervin of Pasadena read a paper on the views upon "Authority" advanced by Bishop Montgomery in his recent address to the University students, and criticized a letter written by a member of the board of bishops in which the latter was said to have an inadvertent censoriously upon Protestant missionaries.

Spilled From a Wagon.

Santos Marasco, Giovanni Loretano and a seven-year-old boy named Morris Marasco were riding down Lyons street yesterday morning and turned into Macy street just in time to have a Pasadena car collide with the two and the wagon, which were tipped out into the street, Marasco receiving a bad gash under his jaw, his hand and knee being also injured. The others were more or less bruised. They were treated at the Receding Hospital. They live at No. 829 Rossmore street.

Iowans Will Organize.

At a meeting held in the parlor of Hotel Van Nuys Broadway last evening the initial steps were taken toward the organization of the South California Iowans. Applications will be sent out to Iowans who reside in Los Angeles and vicinity asking them to join the society. The organization will be put on a formal basis at the next meeting in the rooms of the Union League Club on Spring street, Thursday evening. Robert Hale was temporary chairman, and the legal committee and Assistant District Attorney W.H. Williams as secretary.

SAFETY BERNARDINO COUNTY.

A FLOWERY HOME WEDDING.

SAN BERNARDINO, March 4.—(Regular Correspondence.) Miss Gladys Katz of this city and Robert B. Parsons of Morenci, Ariz., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Parsons, of Los Angeles, were married at 2 o'clock this morning at the home of the bride's mother, Sixth and E streets. Judge F. F. Oster officiated. The floral decorations were elaborate and the ceremony was performed in the presence of a small company of intimate friends of the bride and groom. The groom is secretary of a mining company at Morenci and the bride is a very popular young heiress of this city, a daughter of the late M. Katz, who left a large estate.

Mr. Kelley, who was in the house, heard the noise and promptly shot at the would-be thief, who then ran like a deer east to Towns avenue and turned south on that thoroughfare.

Resolutions Adopted.

In the United States Circuit and District Courts, the same resolutions on the death of Senator Stephen M. White were introduced by Hon. R. N. Bullis and Judge Tracy. They were adopted and ordered read into the House on the 2nd. June. Wellborn. They were the same resolutions heretofore published as adopted by the Superior Court.

Petty Crimes.

Ball Bros., who have a feed yard on the corner of Alpine and Figueroa streets, reported that the same scoundrels broke the locks on their yard gate early yesterday morning, entered the place and cut open a number of sacks of grain, strewn it around on the causeway sailing along. "Not me," he said. "I'm a soldier. I'm home from the Philippines."

And he got off. Lots of others got off before the required number got on. The ratio was about 50 to 1.

Little Blazes.

A man started by a solar printer was the cause of a small fire at Marquette galleries yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. The department was called out, but the fire was extinguished by the employees of the place, the damage being slight. Last night about 7:30 o'clock a child started a coal-oil lamp in the one-story cottage of William Koopmann at No. 1406 South Union avenue. The lamp exploded and the resulting fire destroyed about $75 worth of property.

Protestant Ministers.

A meeting of the Presbyterian Ministers' Association was held yesterday morning at the Y.M.C.A. parlor, and Rev. A. M. Mervin of Pasadena read a paper on the views upon "Authority" advanced by Bishop Montgomery in his recent address to the University students, and criticized a letter written by a member of the board of bishops in which the latter was said to have an inadvertent censoriously upon Protestant missionaries.

Spilled From a Wagon.

Santos Marasco, Giovanni Loretano and a seven-year-old boy named Morris Marasco were riding down Lyons street yesterday morning and turned into Macy street just in time to have a Pasadena car collide with the two and the wagon, which were tipped out into the street, Marasco receiving a bad gash under his jaw, his hand and knee being also injured. The others were more or less bruised. They were treated at the Receding Hospital. They live at No. 829 Rossmore street.

Iowans Will Organize.

At a meeting held in the parlor of Hotel Van Nuys Broadway last evening the initial steps were taken toward the organization of the South California Iowans. Applications will be sent out to Iowans who reside in Los Angeles and vicinity asking them to join the society. The organization will be put on a formal basis at the next meeting in the rooms of the Union League Club on Spring street, Thursday evening. Robert Hale was temporary chairman, and the legal committee and Assistant District Attorney W.H. Williams as secretary.

BREVITIES.

Remember the poor—The Good Samaritan department of the Bethelene Benevolent Board collects new and cast-off clothing of all kinds, shoes, hats, stockings, towels, sheets, bedclothes, food supplies, broken food from hotels and restaurants, food left over from banquets and suppers, clubs of fruit, and vegetables, and other articles needed and wanted among the needy. ## THE PUBLIC SERVICE—IN THE OFFICES AND COURTS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

A contest to restrict the flow of laundry in Central Park has been begun before the Council.

A number of hotel-keepers, physicians and business men filed a petition with the Council yesterday, protesting the establishment of a detention hospital.

The Board of Health has taken measures to get more particulars from inspectors.

The laundry realty is the cause of litigation now on trial in Judge Shaw's court, between W. S. Bryant and W. B. Broadwell.

John E. Frazer is being tried for grand larceny in the criminal court.

The Governor is calling attention to the new charges for filing articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State.

The police courts of Los Angeles start out today, on a solid basis, and more rigorous prosecutions may follow. A new State law brings this.

Fred Cerna, who dodged justice for a year, was sentenced in the Police Court yesterday on two charges.

(AT THE CITY HALL.)

CENTRAL PARK IS NOW DISPUTED GROUND.

IRATE CITIZENS WISH TO OUST THE WIND-JAMMERS.

Petitions Filed with the Council Asking That the Park Be Preserved for Pleasure Purposes and not Given Over to Windy Oratory.

A contest for the ownership of Central Park is on. Does it belong to the property owner, the tax assessor or the city? Is it intended to be given over to the wild meetings and mouthings of labor agitators, Socialists and tramps?

This beautiful little park has of late been regarded by the uneasy residents as a special forum in which to gather and indulge in their ever-ending arguments on politics and religion; a semi-tropical retreat in which to chew tobacco—and the rag.

Whether anything can or can not be done is to be decided by the City Council, to which body the Council yesterday referred two petitions relating to the matter. One petitions the Council to save to the signers and others this beautiful breathing spot, from which they have been driven by the ceaseless outgoings of the wind-jammers; the other is of great length and was worked up by the labor agitators in defense of their alleged right to take as loud, as long and as often as they please.

The first-named petition bears about 500 signatures and reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned residents of Los Angeles, respectfully petition that the public nuisance of the large assembly of men and boys daily in the band stand at Central Park.

We are perturbed that the public assembly of the place interferes with the rights of the public, and exercises an immoral influence, especially upon the young boys, whose minds are easily led, with those of the more native and illiterate. Much of the talk at the band stand we believe to be blasphemous, although a few decent and earnest efforts have been made to antidote this poison, we believe the efforts are in the main futile, and we believe its abatement a great necessity."

In opposition to this a counter petition was filed. It recites that the "periodical assemblies now meeting in Central Park for the discussion of public questions are of great benefit to the City of Los Angeles." Much is said regarding the right of free speech. The petition was presented to the Council yesterday by John Murray, Jr., organizer for the Socialists, Democratic party.

The only person who sees a clear way out of the difficulty is Lewis the Light, who has communicated with the Council over the matter, and the Times with relation to the matter.

THE ORANGE MARKET.

Special and Authentic Quotations by Telegraph.

ORANGES IN THE EAST YESTERDAY.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK. March 4.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) There were forty-five cars of oranges and one car of lemons sold at auction today. A number of them were offered to a sale at 15 cents a box, some of them showing as high as 40 per cent. rot. Consequently the prices were very low. Good fruit sold 10 to 15 cents lower. The weather is mild and threatening rain. There are sixty-seven cars on the track and due. The prospects are unfavorable for the next sale. The price of oranges is 1.25; regular, 1.17; fancy, large, 1.45; regular, 1.17; choice, large, 1.50; regular, 2.00. Beedings, fancy, small, 2.25; regular, 1.15; choice, small, 2.25; regular, 1.85.

BIG FIGURES. Course of the loans, deposits, cash holdings and reserve per cent. of the New York Clearinghouse banks:

Month	Deposits	Reserve
January 1	$80,250,000	1,000,000
January 15	88,250,000	1,000,000
January 25	85,250,000	1,000,000
February 1	87,250,000	1,000,000
February 15	89,250,000	1,000,000
February 25	91,250,000	1,000,000
March 1	93,250,000	1,000,000

Last week's billion of deposits, says the American Banker, has been the talk of the town. Of course the immense advance in this item which has been made is due to the tremendous transfers in securities which are going on. The steel combination will also affect the deposits of the banks when the price of steel rises. There is a good deal of banking credit will be used in the completion of the combination. The unprecedented figures which are involved in this great transaction will affect its effect on the money market. At the present stage, no one can foresee. All the leading banks have been invited, is understood, to meet at the bank of the firm which is plotting the matter. It will be interesting to see if there is any distinction to share in the transaction. But this is all due only to the exact hearing of the operation on the money-market situation.

SUGAR SUPPLIES. The deficit in sugar market is now 100,000,000 pounds and extra C sugar has been received earlier than expected by shipments from San Francisco. The jobbers here have these grades now.

NAILED. The advance in the price of wire nails at the factories which was noted in this department a few days ago amounts to $2 per ton, or 10 cents per box. All iron products have hardened materially in price in the last ten days, from pig to nail, including all sheet, wire, wire mesh, wire cloth, wire and pretty nearly everything into the making of which iron goes. Hardware merchants think this is only the beginning, and that a boom in prices like that of two or three years ago may be expected.

ADVANCE IN OATS. The recent advance in oatmeal is likely to last some time. Advice from the East says it is due to the great scarcity of good milling oats all over the country.

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

ROYAL ANN CHERRIES IN DEMAND. For the past three years the demand for Royal Ann cherries for putting up in bottles for different uses, and known to the trade as the Maraschino cherries, has been increasing in portions as to give this cherry a value far above any other. The Hayward Journal says: "About three years ago the fruit had only a local market, but now it is secured by Rheinstrom Bros. of Cincinnati. The experiment showed that there was no further need to import such an article from abroad, and that a market could be secured in this country. The Royal Ann cherries are already getting a lively move on to close contracts. The reason for this is that Rheinstrom Bros. have had five-year contracts with many orchardists throughout this valley at 5 cents per pound."

EXPORTS FOR DECADE. The following table shows the exports from the United States by countries in 1890 and 1900, arranged in the order of magnitude:

Exported to	1890.	1900.
United States	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
Canada	91,000,000	100,000,000
Europe	80,000,000	100,000,000
France	45,700,000	60,000,000
Germany	40,000,000	50,000,000
Sweden	35,000,000	40,000,000
Denmark	30,000,000	35,000,000
Switzerland	25,000,000	30,000,000
United Kingdom	20,000,000	25,000,000
Australia	15,000,000	20,000,000
Japan	10,000,000	15,000,000
China	8,000,000	10,000,000
South America	7,000,000	8,000,000
South Africa	6,000,000	7,000,000
Other countries	5,000,000	6,000,000
Total, including other countries, not herein mentioned	$1,000,000	$1,000,000

These figures are published in the December number of the Monthly Summary of Commerce and Finance, over twelve hundred pages. They show that exports to Europe increased during that period 43 per cent. to North America, less than 20 per cent.; to South America, less than 10 per cent.; to Asia, 12 per cent.; to Oceania, 122 per cent., and to Africa, 416 per cent.
